

Live Painting Booking Guide

Bring an original painting into the heart of your event. Live painting is available for weddings, celebrations, business openings, festivals, community gatherings, and private events in Washington.

Choose your experience

Live Painting Experience — $450

A two-hour live painting session. I bring an artwork in progress and paint during your event. The painting remains with me unless we agree separately on a purchase. Custom session lengths can be quoted.

Live Painting + Original Artwork — from $850

A three-hour live painting session with a finished original artwork for you to keep. We agree on the subject, size, and approach before the event, while allowing room for the creative process. The artwork may begin on site or arrive in progress so guests can watch the finishing work instead of the early stages. Studio refinement, drying, or protective finishing may occasionally be needed after the event. Additional artworks for sale, auction, or raffle can be discussed in advance. Any charity or revenue-sharing arrangement must be agreed in writing.

Weddings and custom events

Wedding paintings and events with longer sessions, guest interaction, multiple subjects, travel, or special delivery needs receive a custom quote.

What happens next

- Send your event date, venue and city, event type, approximate guest count, desired painting hours, and whether you want to keep the original.
- Tell me what you would like depicted, your preferred canvas size or budget, and whether the event is indoors or outdoors.
- I will confirm the scope, schedule, price, payment dates, and site needs in a written proposal. A date is reserved once the agreement is signed and the booking retainer is paid.

Payment and changes

The booking fee is a 30% non-refundable retainer at signing. Bookings made within thirty days are paid in full at booking. Changes to location, timing, or scope may change the quote. The written agreement will set the final cancellation and rescheduling terms; no new date is guaranteed until confirmed in writing.

The finished original

If your package includes the original, studio work may be needed after the event. In that case, the handoff date and method will be set in the proposal according to the medium and finishing needs. Local pickup near Fall City is available by appointment; delivery and insured shipping can be quoted separately. The original is released after the full invoice and any delivery costs are paid.

Artwork and image rights

Purchase of an original transfers the physical artwork, not the copyright. You may display it and share photos for personal use or ordinary promotion of your event or venue, with credit to the artist (Irisa Kennedy at irisazart.com). Prints, merchandise, packaging, advertising campaigns, resale of image copies, and other reproduction require a separate written license. I may photograph and show the work in my portfolio and promotional channels, subject to any privacy terms we agree in writing.

What the venue provides

Please arrange a safe, level, well-lit painting area with enough room for an easel and guests to move comfortably. Confirm venue permission, a day-of contact, and electricity when needed. Tell me ahead of time about parking, stairs, loading limits, accessibility, and venue rules. Outdoor events need weather protection or an approved indoor backup; unsafe conditions may require a change to the on-site plan.

Ready to inquire?

Email irisakennedyfineart@gmail.com with the details above. An inquiry begins a conversation; your date is confirmed only through the written booking process.